Albina Community Bank Names New Senior Vice President / Chief Lending Officer

Albina Community Bank, a local certified Community Development Financial Institution, announced today that Jeff Aden has joined the bank as Senior Vice President and Chief Lending Officer.

As the bank's Chief Lending Officer, Aden will be responsible for all consumer, commercial and real estate loan production activities in the bank. Jeff is a native Oregonian with 30 years of local commercial banking experience, including previous management roles at Banner Bank and Sterling Savings Bank.

"We are pleased that Jeff has agreed to join the team at Albina Community Bank," said Cheryl Cebula, President and Chief Executive Officer. "Jeff brings a wealth of experience and knowledge in our market, and we look forward to his contribution towards growing the bank's loan portfolio."

Albina Community Bank is a local, full-service, independent community bank committed to investing in individuals, families, businesses and local neighborhoods. Albina offers a wide range of competitive banking solutions, with a mission to promote jobs, growth of small businesses, and wealth in our local Portland neighborhoods. Albina is one of approximately 100 financial services organizations across the United States certified by the U.S. Treasury Department's Community Development Financial Institutions Fund as a Community Development Financial Institution (CDFI). Albina is the only CDFI-certified commercial bank headquartered in Oregon. Albina operates from five local Portland locations.
