ALBINA COMMUNITY BANK APPOINTS NEW DIRECTORS

Portland, OR — June 9, 2014 — Albina Community Bank announced today that it has appointed Melvin Oden-Orr and Tom Cody to its board of directors.

Melvin Oden-Orr is the principal attorney with Oden-Orr Law, a Portland based law office. A former corporate counsel with the Tri-County Metropolitan Transportation District of Oregon (TriMet) and the Portland Development Commission (PDC), his practice focuses on the areas of business transactions, corporate, real estate, public contracts, administrative and government legal matters. He is a frequent writer and speaker on business law issues, including issues of particular relevance to historically disadvantaged business enterprises. He is an active member of the Oregon State Bar and has served on the board of directors of a number of community-based and civic organizations. Mr. Oden-Orr received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science in 1993 from UCLA, and is a 1996 graduate of the University of Illinois College of Law, where he was a recipient of the esteemed Rickert Award for public service.

Thomas (Tom) Cody is the Managing Director of project ^, a Portland based investment and property development concern. Tom's practice lies at the intersection of the natural and the built, celebrating and preserving natural resources by way of innovative urban developments. His design-oriented and creative approach stems, in part, from his experience working in the offices of Frank O. Gehry. Tom is a past Chairman of Oregon Ballet Theater, a previous juror for the Urban Land Institute's Award for Excellence and Hines Competition and an active speaker and thought leader in innovative urban development. Tom holds an undergraduate degree in Planning and Development from the University of Southern California and a Master's Degree in Urban Planning from Harvard University.

"We are very excited to have Melvin and Tom join our Board" said Cheryl Cebula, Albina's President and CEO. "The personal and professional achievements and community involvement of these two individuals is impressive. They are both very supportive of Albina's mission and focus and will be a great addition to our existing board of directors."
